The following letter, relative to the reestablishment abroad of the Carol I University Foundation, was sent by General Constantin Petre-Lazar, Aide to King Mihai, to General Nicolae Rădescu, President of the Rumanian National Committee. This document, dated 18 November, follows:

His Majesty the King has instructed me to transmit to you the following:

His Majesty regards with great satisfaction, the project of the National Committee to give aid to the Rumanians abroad, not directly but through Associations and patronized institutions, aided and controlled by the National Committee.

His Majesty renews his desire that special attention be given to Rumanian culture abroad, by aiding needy and diligent Rumanians through the study of scientific, artistic, literary, and cultural subjects.

For this distinguished work their Majesties, the King and Queen and the Queen Mother, have set aside an initial fund. His Majesty desires that this aid and guidance should be made under the auspices of the "Royal University Foundation Carol I" with headquarters in Paris.

The "Royal University Foundation Carol I" should have a home, library and a periodical. This foundation would be conducted by a committee consisting of three to five professors of higher education who are at present abroad. These professors would be named by His Majesty.

The National Committee is asked to study this matter, and to make suggestions as soon as possible, in regard to the organization. It should send a list of all the professors of higher education who are abroad, giving all the necessary information on the following: their positions held in Rumania and abroad, degrees, their present activity, together with the recommendations of the National Committee.
